McGraw to Get "ED" RUELBAUGH GREAT CUB ARTIST

Further developments in the three trades which Manager McGraw is engineering to strengthen the Giants for the National League campaign of 1906 came to light yesterday when it was learned that Edward P. Ruelbach, pitching impresario of the Chicago Cubs, is included in the Wilkie-Kling deal and will pitch for the Polo Grounds next season.

Baseball sharps, however, were inclined to the belief that McGraw will weaken his pitching department if he lets Wilkie go, but it develops that the commander of the Giants, with his usual foresight, has asked C. Webb Murphy, owner of the Cubs, to allow Ruelbach to figure in the trade. In return for the services of Kling and Ruelbach, McGraw will give Wilkie and a big bundle of money—how much could not be learned, but it is understood to be a sum represented by five figures.

McGraw thus will strengthen his pitching department, for Ruelbach is accounted a better man than Wilkie and can stand a great deal more work. About one game a week is Wilkie's limit, because of the frailty of his physique, while Ruelbach, who is big and strong can pitch every other day if necessary.

Ruelbach is dissatisfied with his berth in Chicago and will gladly come to New York. Last season he had disputes with both Murphy and Chance, the Cubs losing ground in the race because he was late getting into his stride. In May Chance tried to dispose of Ruelbach, but the Cubs of his contract probably scared off any possible buyers and Chicago was compelled to keep him. A little later in the campaign Ruelbach got into condition and it was his great work in the box that kept the Cubs in the running. He reeled off a string of fourteen consecutive victories in July and August, his string being broken when the Giants beat him in a game in Chicago on Sunday, August 15.

Veiling of gold or silver tissues with transparencies is one of the prevalent fancies. In line with it is the interweaving of gold or silver thread in rich moirés of otherwise solid color with the effect of a shimmering background.

Jeffries and Johnson To Meet To-day

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Oct. 28.—Probably the hardest point to settle when Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson and their managers meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Hotel Albany to arrange for their proposed fight will be that of a referee. The only name proposed up to date is that of John L. Sullivan, whom Johnson says he will urge upon Jeffries. It is a moral certainty that Jeffries will refuse to listen to the proposal. Since Old John L. was quoted in Chicago dispatches as saying he thought Jeffries hadn't a chance against the negro and again saying that Jeff would make quick work of Johnson, the big fellow is inclined to think the old-timer's oft expressed antipathy to colored fighters has been favored in the case of Johnson. So far there has been nothing to indicate that the questions of forfeits and sidebets will not be satisfactorily arranged. Each fighter has already suggested that he thought a forfeit of $10,000 would be about the right size. Jeff has indicated that he wanted at least a $10,000 sidebet to which George Little, Johnson's manager, has made the counter proposal of a $5,000 side bet and "all the money that Jeff wants to bet at the ringside odds." He says he is willing to bet $25,000 on Johnson, even if the odds are no longer than 10 to 9 on Jeffries.

That each fighter intends to pick up all the "soft" money that can be had before the fight is indicated by their practical agreement that the date shall not be earlier than next April. This will give each man a three months season on the road and with a prestige of their coming fight for the world's championship, the box offices are expected to respond nobly.

Jeff is exhibiting an increasing dislike for Johnson and the latter is expressing undue aversion to Jeff.

B.H.S. Boys Ready For New Britains

The last stiff scrimmage for the Bridgeport High School football team before the league game with New Britain High tomorrow at Newfield Park will be held this afternoon on the gridiron at Seaside. Two teams will line up, Coach Kelly putting the regulars through all kinds of work both defensive and offensive. The boys laid out yesterday afternoon to take a good rest for today's practice which will be the hardest and most nerve racking of the season. Malcolm, who was out of the Middletown game through sickness, will be on duty tomorrow. His drop kicking being a great asset. The boys feel that if Malcolm had been with them last Saturday a victory would have been theirs, though Lee did fine work with the boot. Lee has to be shoved back from tackle to get in his kicks which is somewhat of a disadvantage to the team as his defensive work is missed when he is off the line. Quarterback Bill Savage, a brother of Ed with Yale, is displaying the qualities that make that faculty so illustrious in B. H. S. athletics. Full back McCarthy is another one of the raw recruits of the year who is coming along with leaps and bounds. McCarthy never knew he had the material in him that goes to make up a football player, but under the skillful coaching of Eddie Kelly, the lack of nerve was worked out of him, he now proving that he has the goods, and though much lighter than former B. H. S. full backs he bids fair to be the speediest back turned out of the school in a number of seasons.

The graduates of the school along with the school body have taken a decided interest in the fray of tomorrow, when it is expected a banner crowd will turn out.

"ED" SAVAGE REAL HERO AT YALE

Ed Savage of this city is proving his worth every day in the practices with Yale. He had been played at end all season with varied successes. The fore part of the week, the coaches realizing that Savage was material for the back field sent him into full back on the first scrub. He showed remarkable "speed" making constant gains through the heavy Yale line, and doing excellent work punting. Savage was shifted to half back on theVarsity making one of the three touchdowns. TheVarsity made against the scrub. In the second half the ball was given to the scrub, but they could not make any progress with it. Captain Coy and Savage were then shifted to the scrub. Savage's first play was a line plunge which netted thirty yards and called for a big call down of the Yale defense by the coaches. By constant plunging Coy and Savage advanced the ball to the Yale yard line from where Savage was shoved over for a touch down. Savage then kicked the goal.

Included among the new coaches who were out to help the regulars was Brink Thorne of Black Rock, who formerly was a Yale star. For the first time this season the weight of the Yale players was officially given out as follows: Coy 190 pounds, Philbin 172, Kilpatrick 188, Hobbs 206, Hogan 155, Vaughn 157, Lilley 187, Goebel 206, Andrews 208, Conney 210, Johnson 155, Howe 152, Daly 175, Hyde 178, Brown 150, Savage 184, Francis 176, total 3,099.

FASHIONS AND FADS

The most noticeable thing about new blouses, is the tiny puff in some of the sleeves. Some are fuller at the top, too, and hardly any are made long or close fitting.

Late Paris fashions in wraps are introducing some startling picture effects designers drawing from all periods and all lands in the shaping of cloaks and mantles. Marabout flowers will take a considerable place among hat trimmings this season in spite of the fact that they cost about twice as much as last year. Travel hats are already here and aer of the lightest possible make of felt. Some of them are turned up sharply at one side, the so-called "left side tilt."

The EMERSON-ANGELUS The Piano Everyone Can Play Artistically

The Emerson Piano, established in 1849, is the leading moderate-priced piano of today. Over 95,000 satisfied purchasers will testify to this.

The ANGELUS was the pioneer Piano-Player, and great musicians, such as Mascagni, d'Albert, Jean and Eduard de Reske, Josef Hoffman, Sembrich, are unanimous in pronouncing it a "wonderful virtuoso pianist."

Both of these leading instruments are now built in one case—the sweet-voiced Emerson Piano and the Angelus, the most artistic player. This splendid combination is known as the Emerson-Angelus.

The Angelus, incorporated within the Emerson case, is the new 88-note Angelus. This is an infinitely better, more practical and more useful player than the regular 65-note kind, because with it, you can play every note in the piano, the entire 88-note range, just the same as the professional concert pianist.

Here are some of the features exclusive with the Angelus—
THE PHRASING LEVER—For delicate changes of time.
THE MELODY BUTTONS—For contrasts of accent.
THE MELODANT, which brings out the complete melody, and subdues everything else.
THE "ARTIST" Music Rolls, completely yet simply marked for the most artistic interpretation.
